Welcome Back IDS Majors

Welcome back to Fall Semester! For those who are new to the major, we want you to know that the IDS Academic Advisors will be forwarding news and information relevant to students in our major via email, once per week, in what is called the IDS Update. This is the web-based version, containing the same information.

Please do not reply to the update email with specific questions, as this information is just being forwarded to all IDS students from various sources. You may, however, contact the person or organization identified and listed in the announcement, directly, with any questions.

We hope you will have a great semester!

Walk-In Advising Available through September 6

If you have an urgent question regarding your Fall Semester enrollment, you are encouraged to come to our posted "Walk-in" hours through Thursday, Sep. 6.

Please refer to the IDS Major Web Site to view the hours that walk-in advising is available.

Walk-in advising is limited to 10-15 minutes per person, and is offered on a first come, first served basis.

After the first week of the semester, schedule an appointment to talk about about future plans, study abroad, internships, or other things you would like to discuss. We will also offer walk-in advising two afternoons per week after the semester is underway (normally Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons). Those hours will be updated and posted on the IDS web page.
