Seniors Must Apply for Graduation

All senior-level students must apply for graduation, online at this web site (http://www.reg.msu.edu/stuforms/gradapp/gradapp.asp), on or before the beginning of the semester they intend to graduate. So, those who intend to graduate this fall should apply immediately, and those who plan to graduate in Spring or Summer Semester should apply very soon, but no later than the first week of school in January. Your application alerts the Registrar's Office of your intention to complete the major. They will verify receipt of your application, then alert the advisor to check your records for completion of requirements, based on current enrollments.

Also, please be aware that the IDS major advisors are now actively using Degree Navigator (http://degnav.msu.edu/), for the first time, to verify completion of degree requirements. Please log in and see if you believe there are any problems with your information. If you find a problem, please alert your advisor, as soon as you can, to work together to make any necessary corrections either to your future enrollment, or to the computer program that tracks your courses. Advisors are the best persons to determine if an adjustment to the Degree Navigator computer program is possible.

SSE Students: College of Education Admission Deadline is November 21

The College of Education is now accepting applications for admission into teacher certification programs, including IDS-Social Science Education, through Nov. 21. Applications are only accepted once per year. In general, students must apply during the fall semester of the sophomore year of school, in order to be accepted into the program prior to the start of the junior year. Some students may apply late, and try to accelerate the completion of the teaching program requirements, but must meet with an IDS major advisor to determine if this is possible.

Please go to the College of Education web page for information on the application process (http://education.msu.edu/academics/undergraduate/apply-teacher-prep.asp). It is also highly recommended that you meet with an academic advisor as soon as possible if you have questions.
Preparing for health professional school interviews

The College of Natural Science Pre-professional advisors will be giving a seminar on preparing for health professional school interviews Tuesday, September 18th and Wednesday, September 19th, both at 5:30pm in 116 Natural Science Building.

Please attend if you are a junior or senior and preparing for health professional school interviews. Both sessions are the same, so you only need to attend one of the sessions.

MSU’s Human Resource Association

The purpose of MSU Human Resource Association is to affiliate students interested in HR issues and give them the opportunity to learn. It is important to give students knowledge about issues in the workplace that will affect them, and to bring professionals and students together to offer a better understanding of different areas of Human Resources. The mission is to build positive relationships among HR students, professionals, and the community.

The next meeting will be Monday, September 24 at 5:30pm in 111 Bessey. If you are interested in joining HRA or have questions regarding our student organization, please contact President Hilary Schroeder at hra@msu.edu. Look for them on Facebook under "MSU Human Resource Association".

IDS’ Future Social Science Educators (FSSE)

Club Information

If you are interested in teaching as a career, and want to join a club that has this focus, please consider joining the MSU FSSE (Future Social Science Educators), which is a group of students dedicated to helping others in the social science or education majors prepare for their future careers.

Most meetings are on Mondays, at 7:30 p.m., in 319 Berkey Hall.

For more information, please contact them in one of the following ways:
Web site: http://fssemsu.weebly.com/
Facebook group: MSU FSSE
Email address: msufsse@gmail.com
President: Brittany Herrington, herrin43@msu.edu
Visit University of Michigan School of Public Health

The University of Michigan School of Public Health invites you to attend their annual Prospective Student Day on October 6, 2012. This event will give you an opportunity to learn more about their highly ranked programs, speak with dynamic faculty and current students, learn about research opportunities, and tour their facilities. RSVP for the event is online as well as information about accommodations and parking. Due to limited space, they ask that only the prospective student attend the event. Family and friends are welcome to explore their website for further information and explore the vibrant Ann Arbor area during the event.

UM-School of Public Health is ranked #4 in the country by U.S. News and World Report. Ann Arbor is consistently ranked on several “Best Places to Live” lists.

If you have questions, you may contact sph.inquiries@umich.edu or call 734-764-9554. Adam Ancira, Director of Admissions, School of Public Health, University of Michigan.